

Bailout Money? Don't Need It. Don't Want It.

Robert L. Johnson
Chairman of the Board & CEO

At CharterBank, we're solid, stable and secure, unlike many of the banks now accepting government bailout money, otherwise known as TARP. We don't need it or want it. Our capitalization and banking operations are strong. At CharterBank, we're doing just fine and we want to help you do fine, too-by lending to credit worthy folks who'll help turn this economy around. Since 1954, we've focused squarely on our local roots and keeping your money "recycling" in this community. Come join our family at CharterBank. Solid, stable, here to stay, and ready to lend a hand- instead of accepting a hand-out.
